

HISTORIC MOUNT HOPE CEMETERY

ESTABLISHED 1838

ROCHESTER, NEW YORK

Welcome to the parklike beauty of America's first municipally owned Victorian cemetery!

196 acres of unique glacial landscape, 350,000 permanent residents, 83 stately mausoleums, and myriad examples of Victorian funerary art.

Resting place of two of the country's greatest reformers and advocates for equality and social justice, Susan B. Anthony and Frederick Douglass, as well many other illustrious residents, including singer/actor William Warfield, newspaper publisher Frank Gannett, Bausch & Lomb founders John Jacob Bausch and Henry Lomb, landscape architect Fletcher Steele, and Lillian Wald, the mother of community health nursing...

...and more! The founder of Western Union, Hiram Sibley, the father of the science of anthropology, Lewis Henry Morgan, the inventor of the fish hatchery, Seth Green, a visionary crusader for the construction of the Erie Canal, Myron Holley, the "don't let Detroit tell you otherwise" inventor of the automobile, George Seldon, and even George Washington's drummer boy, Alexander Millener...
